

DANIEL P. CHURCH

Production Sound Mixer

Member, IATSE 695

As a 3rd generation Sound Engineer with more than 32 years in the industry, Dan Church has worked in all parts of the on-set production sound crew — a skill that has proven valuable on many occasions. For the last 18 years, Dan has been mixing and managing a loyal, hardworking sound crew, as seen by their history of extended runs on several successful shows. Dan and his team take pride in always being ready for action to avoid unnecessary production delays. Preparation starts with the best understanding of equipment and location to being equipped for potential hold-ups. From Utility, Boom to Music Playback, he knows exactly what his department needs to not only be efficient and stay on track, but also get ahead of the game. Dan is easy to work with and brings an unmatched balance of technical skill and personality to every new production challenge.
