Jesse Brunt made a name for himself through diverse music videos for a range of artists from Jason Darulo to The Glam featuring Snoop Dogg. Jesse shoots features as 1st unit after working in 2nd unit and aials on films. Always creative, he built a camera device that "puts motion into high speed photography" - used in James Blunt, Sean Kingston and other music videos where the unique manipulated photography blows everyone away. His 360 Degree Photography can be seen on his website. Jesse is also an Editor which often comes in handy and helps commercial and corporate budgets. "You can't just shoot and add a lens anymore. You need to bring something new and inventive and think outside the bubble." An experienced DIT on complex commercials and music videos, Jesse is also experienced in drone photography, stop motion and directed, wrote and produced a short film on Dusty Springfield which won Kickass Original Short Film at the LA INDIE Film Festival. Jesse loves to travel and has shot throughout the world.
