Jodi has her MFA from the New York University design department and has since designed dozens of commercials and several independent features. One of Jodi's frequent commercial directors is Carolina Zorrilla de San Martin. "As a director and cinematographer who studied art and design, I have a critical eye for art direction. Jodi always exceeds my greatest expectations. Her beautifully rendered sketches often make the difference in getting an idea approved by my client and her follow through is exceptional. She is a rare gem and I look forward to working with her time and time again." Ms. Ginnever has also production designed for stage and still shoots. Working often in New York, and Los Angeles where she is based, Jodi loves to travel.
