Rob Saduski's work has been seen on screen, television and stage. He began his career at famous Western Costume Company with the A-list of Costume Designers, Costumers and Craftsmen. He brought those skills to major feature films including Batman Forever and Eyes Wide Shut, smaller films including Joshua Tree 1951 and Origami Fox and television shows including the pilot to 24 and series Young Americans, with its all star cast of Kate Bosworth, Michelle Moynihan, Ian Somerhalder and Charlie Hunnam. Rob's stage work includes four world tours for Madonna with an Emmy nomination for Costume Supervisor for The Drowned World Tour and shared Costume Design Credit with Dolce and Gabbana on The Girlie Show. Additional stage shows include Paul McCartney and Barbra Streisand. Rob's print and commercial campaigns include Raquel Welch's Foster Grant and her successful Hairuwear wig catalogues and print ads, and was part of the creative team on a Pirelli Calendar and The Absolute Versace campaign.
