ADG, IATSE Local 800

Mark Garner's work as Production Designer demonstrates his keen understanding of setting and his ability to translate that vision into film. The diversity of Mark's talents has awarded him the opportunity to develop a robust portfolio designing many different genres of Film and Television such as army bases, Civil War battle scenes, middle America exteriors and interiors, opulent penthouses and a variety of period sets. Mark graduated from the University of Florida, College of Architecture and immediately landed his first job with HBO as a set designer. He quickly honed his skills of understanding how to translate concept, mood and look into a film set by working under the mentorship of many award winning Designers and Art Directors. Based in Orlando, Florida, Mark is happy to travel and works often in Atlanta and other tax incentive states.
